FICTION CONNECTION

Fiction Connection is a reader's advisory tool that is provided as part of our statewide Books In Print subscription. This database will help users identify books they would like to read along with providing book reviews and series order information. Other facts to know:

- Coverage starts in 1997 however titles by popular authors, classics and titles that are part of a series have been added.
- Updated monthly.
- The database may include forthcoming titles because titles are added as they are reviewed.
- Out of print items are also included in the database.
- The database includes children's and young adult titles for grades 3 and up.

Clicking on the Fiction Connection logo will return you to the main page.

Find Similar

> Perfect Example

The Find Similar option allows users to find titles that have things in common with a title they like. To use the Find Similar tab you must first locate a title you enjoy then click on the FIND SIMILAR button that is associated with the title. A list of titles that are similar to the title you selected will be displayed. The Find Similar tab will also appear on the left showing a list of subjects that are associated with the original title you selected. Using the Find Similar tab you can narrow the list of titles based on your preferences.

The subjects are broken down into different groupings such as genre, topic and character. Next to each subject heading is a number in parenthesis. This number indicates the number of titles that are assigned the specific heading. As you select a subject the numbers behind the headings will be updated. The list of titles will also change. If no items are left with a specific heading the heading will turn gray and a zero will appear behind it.
